

Sundancing with fashion

By Karen Thomas, USA TODAY

Take dozens of celebrities out of Hollywood and put them in snowy Park City, Utah, and their look changes dramatically. "It's several notches down from the typical red carpet of Hollywood or New York," says entertainment editor Marcy Medina, who is at the Sundance Film Festival for Women's Wear Daily. New trends are found in the details. USA TODAY looks at this year's Sundance style:

Daryl Hannah: The Love Is a Drug star strolled Main Street Monday wearing shades with a cozy knit cap - complete with knitted-on ears - in shades of light blue and purple.
